

"PICTURES OF MANY WARS"

Frederick Villiers, Famous War Journalist Will Lecture in Empire Theatre

WILL GIVE REMINISCENCES
One Hundred Pictures and Sketches on Screen Which He Has Gathered in Wars in Past Forty Years

Frederick Villiers, the noted English war-correspondent and artist, is to give his famous lecture "Pictures of Many Wars," at the Empire Theatre on the evening of Thursday, March 17th.

This announcement will without doubt be hailed with delight by the people of Edmonton, as Mr. Villiers has seen every war of any importance since 1896. His graphic stories are intensely interesting. Besides the lecture itself, Mr. Villiers has 100 pictures, some of them sketches by himself, and many of them photographs, made on the various battlefields that he has witnessed.

Mr. Villiers outlined the lecture to the Capital this morning, and promises to be one of the most interesting ever delivered in this city.

Outline of Lecture

The first group of pictures deals with the horrors of war as shown by the sufferings of the peasants in countries invaded. These pictures were made in Mr. Villiers' first assignment as war-correspondent in Serbia in '76.

Next comes the "Death Train" of Turkish prisoners, over the snow, after the capitulation of Plevna in '78. The illustrations show the troops of Osman Pasha.

Then the pictures shift to Alexandria, Egypt, where Lord Charles Beresford's little ship the "Concord" is shown attacking one of the largest forts. This was Beresford's baptism of fire, and it was in this engagement that he got his nick-name "Concord Charlie." Mr. Villiers was on board the "Concord" during this fight. Vice-Admiral Sir John Jellicoe on the "Despatch" shows the British Marines on camels crossing the

WILL BRITISH BE TRUE TO ORIENT?

England is Bringing Strongest Pressure to Bear upon Japan to Avoid Trouble With U. S.

London, March 13.—There are unmistakable signs today that the British foreign office is uneasy because of the prospect of a clash between America and Japan. This "clash," which some believe will be merely commercial, but which many are convinced will be a titanic war, is daily growing more imminent, in the opinion of English politicians.

While the great mass of the English people still believe that "blood is thicker than water," English diplomacy has disregarded this bit of sentiment and finds itself in a most embarrassing situation as a result. British diplomacy in its recent far eastern stir, has meant more than British commercialism and is responsible for the Anglo-Japanese pact, from the terms of which it would be difficult to escape in the event of war between Japan and America.

Public opinion in England, however, has never wholly sanctioned this Anglo-Japanese alliance and any administration that would co-operate with Japan in a struggle between the latter and the United States would undoubtedly be wrecked beyond all hope of repair.

The thought of a breach in the great Anglo-Saxon family, with England turning traitor and throwing her influence towards the orientals is repugnant to the mass of English citizens.

There is authoritative although unofficial information that England is bringing the strongest pressure to bear upon Japan to avoid trouble with the United States.

Dynastic Works Fatality.

Vancouver, March 14.—Four Japs and one white man, all employees of the Western Explosives Co., were killed today in an explosion in the dynamite works on Bowen Island, 18 miles from this city. All the bodies and the powder house in which they were working were blown to atoms.

REFUSE PROBLEM GROWING SERIOUS

City Takes Over Scavenger Work Tomorrow—Incinerator Capacity Greatly Exceeded

Tomorrow the city takes over the work of collecting and disposing of all the city's garbage, and with this new duty placed on its shoulders, the health department finds itself face to face with a problem that at present seems almost insurmountable.

The incinerator is being taxed far beyond its powers these days, and for the next two months conditions give every sign of growing worse instead of better.

The capacity of the incinerator is 30 tons of refuse per day, or 300 tons a week. Last week 400 tons of refuse was burned, and as the weather grows milder, and people start the usual spring cleaning, this amount will be greatly increased.

"What are we going to do with all this stuff?" wailed Dr. Whitelaw this morning in telling The Capital of the present state of affairs. "The staff at the incinerator is already working to death. J. S. Stewart, the engineer, is doing everything in his power, but the capacity of the incinerator is being exceeded by twenty and thirty tons every day, and some remedy will have to be adopted right away. The situation has now reached an acute stage, and the council will have to decide on some means of handling this great amount of refuse immediately."

GENERAL WALK OF UNION MEN

Central Labor Union Taking Part in the Philadelphia Transit Strike

REAL PINCH TO BE FELT
Result of Exodus Will Be Grand Tie-up Which Will Paralyze Every Line of Industry

Philadelphia, Pa., March 13.—The Central labor union of Philadelphia, in a secret meeting on Sunday afternoon, issued a final call to all union labor men within the city. They are ordered to join the general strike not later than midnight on Monday under penalty of ostracism from the union labor.

This move came as a bombshell into the camp. It had been believed that the Central Labor Union, satisfied with its position, would stand pat and wait for the agreement between the Rapid Transit Company and its employees. The call, if generally obeyed, means that Philadelphia will begin to feel the real pinch of a general strike.

Secretary Charles Hope said after the meeting: "We are going to use every possible weapon to win this fight."

At the same meeting all union men possessing bank accounts were directed to withdraw their money from the local banking institutions. The labor leaders hope by this move to still further inconvenience the power which is at battle with them.

The Central Labor Union has led its ace of trumps.

Upon the success or failure of the general exodus scheduled for Monday at midnight, much depends. If the remaining union men at work in the city follow their brethren into the general strike, as they have been ordered to do, the result will be a grand tie-up which will absolutely paralyze every line of industry.

Sunday passed peacefully. The meetings, which were held were quiet and orderly, there were no calls for police and the cars operated without interference.

CITIZENS FAVOR GAS FRANCHISE

International Heating & Lighting Co. Were Well Received in the City—May Begin Plant at Early Date

That all those who have looked into the matter are in favor of the granting of a franchise to the International Heating and Lighting Co., for the installation of a gas plant in Edmonton, is evident from the opinions expressed by those who were in conference with Messrs. George T. Biss, a gas plant. The company will file a plan of the company who yesterday concluded a brief visit to the city.

The party from Cleveland left last night for Saskatoon and Regina, and from thence they will go east to Fort William. During the short time they were here, however, Mr. Eaton arranged interviews with a number of the city councilors and other prominent men of the city, and the feeling was unanimous that Edmonton needs a gas plant.

The company will file a letter with the city council tomorrow night, in which they will offer to grant the $2000 bond required by the council, and then in two or three weeks' time, Mr. Eaton expects to return to Edmonton and close the negotiations.

If the franchise is granted soon, the work of construction will be set on within a month or two, and the plant will be completed inside of a year and a half.

NEGRO BROKE GIN RECORD

In Local Hotel Bar Stood for 16 Glasses of Square Gin and Shortly Faded Away

Edward Jones, a negro, in a night attempt to break the square gin record of Alberta, today lies in the Misericordia hospital at the point of death. His heart is only kept beating by the use of strychnine.

Jones, who is a porter in a local hotel, finished his work about 3 p.m. Saturday and strolled into the bar. The negro ventured the remark that he had never been drunk in his life, and could drink all the gin in the city. A bystander offered to pay for the gin, so Jones started in and despatched six glasses of the pure stuff without flinching an eyelash. The payee began to get cold and asked Jones how many more he was capable of. He replied "Ten." So a waiter of $500 was laid, and the drunken-limbed gentleman, bottle in one hand and glass in the other, got busy. One after another he dispatched the six-ounce glasses of gin until he had finished altogether a bottle and a half. Collecting the money and carefully counting the cash Jones made his way towards the C. N. R. station. Hardly had he gone two blocks when the keeled over in the snow and lay unconscious. Dr. J. P. Christian is attending him.

England Does Well.

Capetown, S.A., March 12.—England were all out in the first innings of the fifth test match for 417. South Africa made 23 for three wickets down.

Prominent Sportsman Suicides

Winnipeg, March 14.—Jas. Doble, who was prominent in Canadian and American racing circles died last night at the general hospital from the effects of a wound in the right temple. The wound was apparently self-inflicted with a large revolver which was found lying beside him on the bed in his room at the Leland Hotel. The deceased had been afflicted with paralysis on the right side of his body for a considerable time past and his head was also affected to such an extent that he has not been able to speak since May 15th last. Dependence on this account is supposed to have been the cause of the act.

DESPONDENT MAN TOOK HIS LIFE

Urquhart Note to Coroner Saying it Was Case of Suicide to Save Worries in the Family.

Ottawa, March 14.—"To the coroner—This is a case of suicide, a coward's way, in view of this family to save worries to the family. I trust that an inquest will be considered unnecessary and I would that newspapers give as little space to the matter as possible."

Leaving that note on the table by his side, Win. Urquhart, aged 33, unmarried, of No. 39 Belmont avenue, Ottawa, South, on Saturday evening shot himself in the temple with a small calibre revolver. The deceased at the time was in the house with his aged mother only. The coroner decided not to hold an inquest. He had been in poor health for years as the result of an accident in boyhood.

Drastic Measures in Calgary.

Calgary, March 14.—As a result of the police investigation here on Saturday the commissioners today dismissed Sergt. Burroughs, reduced Constable Richardson's, and Vaughan's wages and reprimanded Constables Kearns and Fisher. Burroughs was found guilty of frequenting a disorderly house and being intoxicated while on duty, and the constables of neglect of duty in failing to report him.

OUTFITSWORKDOUBLE SHIFTS

Traction Engines are Making Great Progress—Prospects for Coming Harvest Season Were Never Better

Calgary, March 14.—Ploughing night, and day is the latest for southern Alberta. Taking advantage of the early spring and beautiful weather prevailing throughout southern Alberta, the farm farmers here are losing no time in preparing the ground for putting in spring crops. Reports are coming into Calgary to the effect that some of the largest farmers in the southern part of the province have outfitted their teams to work and are operating double shifts. The traction engines drawing ten and twelve ploughs have been fitted up with powerful headlights and the snoring, puffing monsters are tearing up the prairie at a rate that promises to make the coming season the most productive in history of the province.

TARIFF QUESTION ENGAGES TAFT

Editor Macdonald, of the Globe, Fails to Discuss Strained Relations Between Two Countries

Washington, March 14.—Jas. Mc Donald, editor of the Toronto Globe, called upon President Taft Saturday to talk over the tariff situation between Canada and the United States. The President informed Mr. Macdonald that the tariff experts who had been sent to Ottawa were preparing a report which would be submitted to him today. He would then be in a position to discuss with him the relations between the two countries which appear at this moment to be somewhat strained because of the inability of experts to reach a satisfactory agreement with the Canadian government for the acquisition by the United States of the same pre-emption terms accorded by the Dominion to France in the special tariff arrangement between Canada and that country.

These Are No Midgets.

St. John, N.B., March 14.—The combined weights of Wilfrid and R. Westwood, brother and sister, who with their parents arrived on the Lake Erie from Liverpool yesterday total exactly 550 pounds. Wilfrid, who is 12, tips the scales at 330 pounds, and his sister, aged 16, weighs 220 pounds. They belong to New Zealand and will make a trip across Canada.

MORE POWER NEEDED FOR THE PEAK LOAD

Piston at Power House Broke on Saturday Night due to Heavy Steam Pressure Required

By the sudden breaking of the piston rod on the new 1200 h.p. Goddard & McCulloch engine at the power house about seven o'clock Saturday evening, the entire city was plunged in darkness. Street lights flickered and went out; hotels and stores were put out of commission for a short time, and householders were given scant notice of the coming darkness by the dull red glow of the incandescent lights, which lasted for a moment before the light was finally extinguished.

Immediately there began a frantic search for disused and forgotten lamps, and those stores that kept them did a rushing business in candles. In fact, the hotels and most of the stores presented a rather primitive appearance with scores of candles stuck on desks and counters, and casting their flickering light, that only served to intensify, rather than relieve the surrounding darkness.

Down at the power house all was busy confusion. Most of the business and part of the residential sections were lighted after a short time by putting on of the smaller engine into commission. Owing to the fact, however, that most of the stores are open on Saturday evening, this lone engine was unable to supply all the demand. The two Robt engines have a capacity of 900 horsepower, and the Saturday night load always exceeds this amount.

All day yesterday men labored at the Edmonton Iron Works to complete a pattern for a new piston, and by about ten o'clock last night the damage was repaired, and all the street lights were on once more. The new piston thus hastily made is only of an emergency character, however, and another more stable one will have to be ordered immediately.

Superintendent McNaughton thinks that the break was due to the fact that the piston was too light for the steam pressure it was forced to sustain, and consequently the new piston will be of a much heavier calibre.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN COUNTRY HOME

While Mother Was Away Three Small Children Were Caught in Flames of Burning Building

Rapid City, Mar. 14.—The farm of Wm. Ackinson, four miles east of here, was the scene of a triple tragedy on Saturday afternoon when the home and outcrops were totally destroyed by three young children of Frederick Wilfrid, Vera two and a half years old; Florence, one and a half years old; and Violet Mabel, five months old, were burned to death. Just before the fire occurred, Mrs. Willis had taken down the fire in the stove and gone to the outbuilding some distance away to feed the chickens, leaving the children in the house. The baby was in the cradle and the older children were playing on the floor. She had

JARRED BY UNRULY CAR

Eastbound Car Turning on Namany Ave., Failed to Respond to Brakes

PASSENGERS WERE SHAKEN

All Were Thrown out of Their Seats and Some had to Have Their Injuries Attended to by a Doctor.

An accident that might have resulted in serious injuries to many of the passengers took place at the corner of Namany and Jasper avenues about ten o'clock Saturday night, when an east-bound Namany avenue car failed to respond to the brakes.

The car was going east along Jasper at a high speed, and as it neared the curve at Namany avenue the motorman tried to slow up. The brakes caught the wheels, but owing to the very slippery and greasy condition of the rails, the wheels failed to grip. The result was that the car trucked the curve at a terrific gait. Fortunately, it did not leave the rails, but so great was the jar that all the score or more of passengers were thrown violently from their seats.

Most of them received cuts and bruises of a minor character, the most seriously injured being a Mrs. Levitt of James avenue, and a little girl who was too badly frightened to give her name. Both Mrs. Levitt, who is an elderly woman, and the little girl, were thrown on their faces to the floor. Mrs. Levitt sustained a sprained thumb, and had her shoulder badly wrenched, while the child had her face bruised. Dr. Polinschke, whose office is in the Credit Union block, happened to be on the car, and attended to Mrs. Levitt.

Strange to say, the motorman did not appear to know that anything unusual had happened, and the car proceeded some blocks before it was brought to a stop and the names of the passengers secured.

AUTOS FROLIC ON THE SPEEDWAY

Firms in the City are Looking for a Great Year—Large Garage to Open on Rice Street

If the automobile is a sign of prosperity, Edmonton is in for the most successful year in its history.

Yesterday, the bright sunshine and drying streets, were too much for the ardent automobilists and they refused to defer the season's opening until another day. From early morning until night Jasper avenue was a veritable speedway and the horse had to take second place to his more expensive rival. There were all sorts and conditions of machines in evidence from the lowly runabout with its humble two-cylinder engine to the regal limousine of six-cylinder fame.

Nearly all are new machines, and

A GUARANTEE NOT A SUBSIDY

The Calgary Alberta calls the guarantee by the provincial government of the Alberta & Great Waterways Railway bonds a "subsidy." A guarantee, as the Alberta well knows, is not a subsidy or anything of the sort. The C. P. R. in 1886, got a cash grant of $13,000,000 a mile, 25 million acres of land, besides 700 miles of completed road to aid it in furnishing Canada with a railroad running from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. This was a subsidy with a vengeance. But the Conservative government of that day found it necessary to offer these great inducements in order to secure the railway, and no serious criticism of the agreement was made at that time, because the Liberal opposition said the road would never pay for the axle grease and on the wheels when ready to operate. The criticism came later.

The guarantee of the Alberta and Great Waterways government, of $200,000 per mile, it is safe to say, will never cost the province a dollar, either in principle or interest. It simply enables the company to borrow money to build the road, and if it pays, as there is no doubt that it will, despite the statement of the junior member for Calgary, that the country is not even worth surveying, the government, or in other words, the people of this province, will never be called upon to pay a single cent. The Alberta has endeavored all through this dispute, to mislead the public, for reasons best known to itself, and the fact that this Calgary paper calls this guarantee a subsidy shows a lack of a desire to be fair that is deplorable in a journal which professes to mould or influence public opinion.

Be it remembered that the Hon. W. H. Cushing was a member of "Premier Rutherford's" cabinet at the time the bond guarantee of $200,000 per mile to the A. & G. W. Railway Company was passed and that the honorable gentleman was a very ardent champion of the guarantee all through the election campaign of a year ago. If he can build the road for $12,000 a mile now he could have done so then, and his duty, instead of commending the undertaking, was clearly to condemn it, and if he did not succeed in convincing his colleagues to his views, to resign from the cabinet. Both the honorable gentlemen's protests and his resignation were too slow in arriving to entitle him to that generous measure of confidence that he and his supporters now seem to think is his due.

W. R. Clarke was seen in Chicago at half past eight o'clock on Wednesday morning, emerging from the grill room of the Great Northern, an obscure hotel in the heart of the Windy City. He was chewing a toothpick and evidently seeking to avoid recognition, as he wore a light coverd suit with the trousers carefully creased and turned up at the bottom. Later he was surprised in the act of passing a match to Hamlin Garland, the author who made the overland trip to the Klondike in 1903. Any further suspicion move on the part of the president of the A. & G. W. Railway will be duly reported for the benefit of Capital readers.

W. R. Clarke, president of the Alberta & Great Waterways railway company, is vice-president of the United States Trust Company of Kansas City, Mo., of which his father, W. B. Clarke, who died some years ago, was president. The Clarke are an old Kansas family with an excellent business reputation where they are best known. That they are strangers to the Calgary Alberta does not prove them adventurers to be regarded with suspicion. There are many things—and many people besides the Clarkes—that are unknown to the Alberta.

The crisis in the government is past. Attorney General Cross is back in the cabinet, the ex-Minister of Public Works is still out, and it is to be hoped that the session will now run smoothly as its close. Though the legislature, as was pointed out by the junior member for Calgary, has been sitting for a month, practically no work has been done. If Mr. Bennett is sincerely desirous of expediting public business it is in his power to help by resolutely withstanding the temptation to employ obstructive tactics where no useful purpose is to be served. As to the government, it is believed to be stronger today than at any time since the disruption, and the proceedings of the next week or two are expected to prove it. The retirement of the Attorney General on Tuesday was the signal for an outbreak of angry protest from the Premier's followers. Upon Mr. Cross has fallen the brunt of the battle in the present session and his withdrawal means the immediate collapse of the government. The mistake was speedily rectified and the government is now presenting to the opposition a solid front in which it is confidently expected no further breaches will be made during the remainder of the session.

How much of the $50,000 to be expended in the erection of the new school building on Seventeenth street will be charged to advertising Edmonton? Judging from the cost and depreciation of this school which appeared in the Saturday issue of the Capital, it will surpass in appearance and accommodation any of the other educational institutions which the city now possesses. These schools have been the pride of Edmonton. The last word of departing visitors has been in praise of the Edmonton schools, coupled with the remark that the city that looks so well after the education of the children need have no fear of the future. The beautiful building, when completed will serve to a very appreciable extent in adding to the reputation which Edmonton has attained for its excellent educational facilities. Of this reputation it should be prouder than anything else. To the school board which for the past few years has been building up this reputation the words of highest approbation should not be denied.

The rigorous weeks of winter, however enjoyable they may have been, seem to be drawing to a close. There is something in the softness of the air, the lengthening of the days, and the warm rays of the sun that delight us with the sensation of spring. Spring is more a hope than any visible reality. One or two beautiful days in the middle of March do not banish winter, but they give a most joyful anticipation. To the farmer spring means everything. He prepares the ground for the seed. If seedling is done early it gives an early harvest and free from the danger of blighting frosts in the fall. A late spring does not mean failure but an early and open spring does ensure success. Come, gentle spring, let us feel your genial influence!

The trip out to St. Albert, which several members of the Legislature had on Sunday, will doubtless prepare them for any excitement which the House may provide this week.

THE FRUITS OF CO-OPERATION

Much has been heard of late, about co-operation among farmers to insure better prices, but, curiously enough, another result of co-operation is overlooked, viz.: that this co-operation works in different ways to raise the value to the farmer, one of the principal ways being that it is sooner or later, generally sooner, an incentive to the production of a better article of more uniform quality.

In a community there is always a good, better, best, with inferior running down to their graves, and when products are brought to market in little lots by individual producers, then traded off, these producers have little or no opportunity of comparing their wares with those of others and are not always aware what grade is superior to others they are producing. When co-operation in marketing produce comes in, one of the first requisites to handing it on is the grading, prices being governed according to grade. At its central depot the producer is soon to be an important critic, practically in his own employ, what grade his particular form of produce will go into, and whether it is first, second or third. This dictum he has to accept and probably takes the trouble to find out in what way the producer of others is superior, and tries to attain to a better class of goods; so that the average of the produce marketed from that locality becomes more uniform and of better quality, and so not only brings a better price, because of the economy in marketing, but also because "the better" are more uniform and of better quality.

Co-operation in marketing is, now-a-days, being carefully studied and is increasing in practice. It will meet with opposition and have its detractors, but, nevertheless, is on the increase in many countries and has been the greatest factor in the recultivation of agriculture in Ireland, and has worked wonders in that country. So much so that even in England, now, they are putting in practice what to them must be putting the cart before the horse and are copying methods inaugurated in Ireland and worked out in a practical way to success.

Co-operation is eminently the small man's salvation as it emphasizes the old story of the bundle of sticks, as it is the smallest men that are in the weakest position and need the assistance of their brother workers, so that they can together present a solid front and represent a power which is very much weakened when each cries to stand alone.

This question of improving the product by co-operation is really a very important question as regards the economics of feeding a nation, which economies are being more studied every day as population increases and there are more mouths to be fed. It is becoming every day a matter of most serious import to our neighbors in the United States, and will, sooner or later, be a factor in Canada, if it is not so acute now.

The improvement in quality of the product means the production of a better and more nutritious amount of food for the same amount of labor, and at the same cost, in fertility in land and manufacture; and it is an economy all-round with the greatest gain to the country that produces and practices the better method.

It is an evidence of thrift and a national action which increases in value till we find whole peoples, such as the Danes and the Dutch, working out industries and producing on one section perhaps more than we do on a township, of a better article in a far more economical and less land-exhausting way.

Anyone that is antagonistic to co-operative marketing well carried out by progressive farmers, is working against the interests of the country that he lives in, as this method not only means greater profit to the producer, without deducting wealth from other callings in its own country, but it means better products of more uniform quality more easily obtained in a steady supply of articles of the best kinds within easy reach of those who require them.

Co-operative marketing of produce is progressive, economic and elevating and is a benefit to the whole community where it is practiced and is, in reality, not a detriment if looked at in a fair and upright manner.

What Others Say

A representative of the Capital met Mr. Edwards of the Eye Opener at his hotel this morning. On making the jocular inquiry if anybody had been "getting after" him lately, Mr. Edwards produced the following gem from last week's Lethbridge Herald, edited and owned by W. A. Bachman, M. P. B.

Bob Edwards Goes to Nelson
Bob Edwards, the notorious editor of the Eye Opener, passed through the city (Lethbridge) this morning on the way to Nelson where he will be the C. P. R. ticket agent.

HORSE FAMINE

(Ottawa Evening Journal)
This portion of Ontario according to some estimates expects a horse famine the coming summer. But the prospect does not appeal as it might fifty years ago, for in most services the motor car is able to take the place that hitherto the horse had marked out for his own.

MAKE THE MARKETS

(Lethbridge Herald)
Mayor Adams was right when he said that the best way to attract manufacturing industries to the city is to fill up the surrounding country so as to give the industries a market for their produce. If the market is here the industries will come. All that is necessary is to show them a profitable market.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

(Toronto News)
The Irish members have maintained in this Parliament that they have no interest in the fiscal policy of either British party. What they want is to fix their own fiscal plans at Dublin. Mr. Asquith has agreed that he will give Ireland no measure of home rule that would include the management of its own finances. It is evident, therefore, that the Liberals and the Nationalists cannot long pull together.

WHAT PEOPLE LIKE TO READ

(Montreal Herald)
The advice of an old journalist to a new reporter was to keep an eye out for the annual. "If you see a dog and a cat in an argument, even if it is noisy and exciting, give no heed, for that is something everybody understands; but if the dog should try to climb a tree and meet with any success, get all the details you can, for that will not happen very often."

GOOD FOR GUELPH.

(Ottawa Evening Journal)
A Guelph judge has refused an agent a promising commission for securing his client a wife, deprecating that this is one of the matters which a man cannot attend by deputy. History seems to support this view, for we all know what happened Captain Standish when he sent John Alden to woo viciously "Priscilla, the Puritan maiden."

FUNNY IN THE SENATE

(Hamilton Spectator)
A serious senator asked yesterday in the Canadian senate if the government did not intend to put a stopper on Judge Loughey, who has been making independent speeches. Sir Richard Cartwright, for the government, replied: "Touching the request that we should put a stopper on Judge Loughey, I am not aware of any motion by which the government could put a stopper on him with any regard to his physical health." Sir Richard seems to be renewing his youth.

THE EFFECT OF RESTRICTED PRODUCTION

(Ottawa Free Press)
Commenting upon the argument of some non-advertisers that they can give greater value than advertising competitors for equal money, because they are not at any expense for publicity, the manager of a shoe company operating a chain of retail stores says:

There is a charge for store rent and a charge for advertising in the price you pay for every pair of shoes. The charge for rent is a necessity. Does the advertising add to the cost of selling, or reduce it? Let's see.

A store paying $20 a day for rent, and selling 200 pairs of shoes, without advertising, would have to charge you a dollar a pair for rent alone. If by spending $20 per day additional for advertising the same store can sell 200 pairs of shoes, then the rent and advertising combined would cost only 20 cents a pair instead of one dollar.

Consumers are by this time pretty well acquainted with the folly, not to say dishonesty, of the claim that restricting production tends to lower the price of the commodities they buy. To dispense with advertising restricts production. The best goods for the money are bound to be those that are consistently advertised.

WHAT NEXT?

(Albany, N.Y., Journal)
"Free trade between two countries would necessitate identical tariff rates in both against other countries. It would also necessitate identical administration of those rates. The United States would, of course, absolutely control customs administration in both countries. It could not tolerate a different set of valuations and classifications of the same kind of merchandise. Control of customs administration in Canada would, of course, carry with it political control in Canada. That would mean political union, as well as commercial union—in short, the annexation of Canada to the United States."

HARD ON THE EDITOR

(High River Times)
A good joke on the editor who went one evening to report a party at a home recently blessed with a new baby. He met his hostess at the door and after the usual salutation he asked after baby's health. The lady who was quite deaf and suffering from the grippe, thought he was asking after her cold, and answered that although she usually had one every winter, this was the worst one she ever had. kept her awake at night a good deal and at first confined her to bed. Then realizing that the newspaper man was getting nervous she said she could tell by his looks that he was going to have one just like hers, and asked him to go in and sit down.

Just Good Enough

To Be Dangerous

If poor advertising mediums were ENTIRELY worthless they would not be dangerous! For they could not, then, make any appeal whatever to sensible advertisers.

But an advertising medium which has a LITTLE MERIT is, like "a little knowledge," a "dangerous thing." Some business men there are, always, who—for considerations of "cheapness," etc.,—will either rely upon such mediums wholly, or give them an absurdly large part in their advertising campaigns.

WITH HIS LITTLE HATCHET

"Wee" Jim Jeffries, to Please His Mother, Rids Her Garden of a Large Tree—Sounds Almost True

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12.—Regular training for James J. Jeffries will begin on April 1, in preparation for the big battle of July 4th, according to an announcement made today after a conference with Sam Berger and some of the men who will be with him in the camp.

The training quarters will be in the Santa Cruz mountains, some distance south of San Francisco, and not far from the coast.

Sam Berger, Farmer Burns, and Bob Armstrong will open the camp with Jeffries. Frank Goetz and Jim Corbett will join the party early in May.

Jeffries today reiterated his denial that there has been any difficulty between him and Corbett, and insists that he will have the assistance of the former champion in training for the bout.

Jeffries is still doing preliminary training here. He was on the road for eight miles yesterday and cooled off by chopping down a cactus tree which his mother wished to have removed from her yard.

May Enter League.

Saskatoon has received an invitation from the president of the Western Canada Baseball League to have a representative at the league's annual meeting in Brandon on Good Friday. In the meantime, Medicine Hat comes along with the tale they're back in the game as hot as ever. All the eight towns being back ready for a place in the schedule leaves "no choice" for this city but to sit out. We will be found sitting out with an eye on developments. The city may send someone to the Brandon meeting.—Free Press.

REGINA PROSPECTS ARE GOOD

The Bonapoles are Meeting With Great Success in Raising Their Deficit of $4,000

At a meeting of the Regina club on Thursday evening, everything appeared to be running smoothly. The directors need $4,000 and they are meeting with considerable success in selling that amount of stock.

"Reay" Walters reported as to his efforts in getting together a winning team. "Reay" has now secured a line on a sufficient number of A1 players to fill each position on the team several times over. In fact, he could put half a dozen strong nines on the diamond for Regina. It is now merely a matter of sifting out the available material and formally signing on the very best. Quite a number of the men which Regina can have are men from the ranks of clubs playing in leagues offering a higher grade of professional ball than that of the Western Canada League.

Scottish League Results.

London, March 12.—The following are the results of games played in the Scottish Football League on Saturday:

Aberdeen 3, Hearts 0.
Valhalla 3, Hamilton 1.
Morton 1, St. Mirren 0.
Kilmarnock 2, Port Glasgow 0.
Aberdonians 2, Motherwell 2.
Queen's Park 3, Rangers 2.
Third Lanark 0, Thistle 0.

St. Mike's Win Final.

Toronto, March 12.—It required 20 minutes overtime on the slushy ice for St. Michael's to triumph 2-1 over Parkdale in the finals of the O.H.L.

THEY HAVE TO WORK NOW

Now that Ottawa Hockey Players Have Lost the Cup, an Unfeeling Public Demands That They Labor.

Ottawa, March 12.—Marty Walsh will reside in Ottawa permanently this summer and will get his nose to the grindstone in a week's time. Few people are aware of it, but Walsh has been a sick man since the cup series with Edmonton. That strenuous season when five games were played in nine days broke Walsh down completely. He stayed with it, he, however, and only had to drop for one game.

Albert Kerr will also be here this summer. It is said he now practically gives out all the suggestions himself about the construction of the Transcontinental. Capt. Bruce Stuart is in Montreal at the present time, but instead of going away will during the summer months as in the past, hold down the planks in his shoe emporium on Bank street.

Percy Lesueur and Fred Lake are both sporting goods merchants connected with the firms of Ketchum & Co. and Hurd & Co., respectively, and are already dressing the windows with ball bats and lacrosse sticks.

Ricard Ripshoff will remain in the Capital also during the summer. Gordon Roberts, who, as everybody is aware, is Charles M. Hay's right hand on the Grand Trunk, will continue to direct the policy of that institution. Kenny Mallon will likely return to Morrisburg and break speed records on the St. Lawrence with his launch. Walter Small is also expected to remain in the city during the hot season and may stay here for keeps. Hamby Shore will continue to run the Interior Dept.

FRED WHITCROFT IS RETURNING

Star Rover has Been a Sick Man—Says He Will Never Play Again Except in Edmonton Uniform

From letters received from Fred Whitcroft it is evident he will be in Edmonton very shortly. He left Renfrew on Saturday and after spending two or three days in his home town, Peterboro, will hit the trail for the West.

Whit has had some mighty tough luck. In Colaba he was so unfortunate as to have a tooth broken, and the physician when sewing up the gash left a piece of the broken ivory in the wound. Blood poisoning set in and caused one roving a bunch of trouble. In addition to this his bad luck has evened back on him and necessitated his retirement from the game. Fred says there is only one chance of him ever donning his hockey tights again and that is on an Edmonton team challenging for the Stanley Cup.

New Record in an Auto.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 11.—Barney Oldfield, driving his 200 horse-power Benz in practice today, covered a mile in 28 seconds, one-fifth faster than the world's record made by steam car here four years ago.

Money in Cricket.

The last tour of England made by an Australian team netted each player and the manager just £400 each. The total receipts amounted to £13,200. The expenses were £8,800, leaving a gross profit of £4,400. The fifteen players split all but £1,000 between them. The £400 divided per man is the actual reward for four months' work in England and eight months' absence from Australia. Not bad business at all.

BERLIN WAS NO MATCH FOR WANDERERS

Ontario Pro. Champions Might Just as Well Have Stayed Home and Saved Money.

HALF TIME SCORE 5-3—GAME ENDED 7-3

Frood Was the Best of the Challengers While Russell, Hyland and Johnson Starred for Cup Holders—This Will be the Last Stanley Cup Game this Season—Russell Scored Four Goals—Ice Was Heavy.

(Special to The Capital.)

Montreal, March 12.—A large crowd of interested hockey fans thronged Jubilee Park Saturday night to see the first Stanley Cup game between Wanderers and the Berlin team, champions of the Ontario Professional Hockey League.

The Berliners started the game with a rush but failed in the second half and were trimmed by a score of 7 to 3. Here at the start was called upon to handle some hot ones which he effectively blocked. Siebert for Berlin scored first goal. However, they did not hold the lead long for Russell secured the rubber from the face-off and made a pretty shot into the visitors' nets which evened the score. The visitors were all pretty stick-handlers but heavy checking by the champions prevented the challengers from getting within the danger zone many times. After first ten minutes of play, which was strenuous, Russell again scored. Wanderers, who were playing their famous combination play, had decidedly the better of the play with the result that they scored the next three goals. Frood did some nice work for Berlin, and the score at half-time was Wanderers 5, Berlin 3.

The second half started with a bang and Berlin almost scored from the face-off. Play began to get rough, both teams being inclined to mix it up, and Referee Bowie got busy. Russell and Hyland again scored for the Wanderers. The heavy ice prevented any kind of shooting and neither side were able to add to score, thus the final score was 7 to 3, and Wanderers still cling to the famous silverware.

The teams lined up as follows:

Berlin.	Wanderers.
Goal.
Lehman Hern
Point.
Seibert Marshall
Cover-point.
Corbeau Johnson
Rover.
Edmunds Glass
Centre.
Dumart Russell
Right wing.
Anderson Hyland
Left wing.
Frood Gardiner

Referees—Russell Bowie and Chauncey Kirby.
Summary—1st, Berlin, Siebert, six minutes; 2nd, Wanderers, Russell, one minute; 3rd, Wanderers, Russell, 10 minutes; 4th, Wanderers, Hyland, four minutes; 5th, Wanderers, two minutes; 6th, Berlin, Frood, 30 seconds; 7th, Wanderers, Russell, four and one-half minutes; 8th, Berlin, Corbeau, 45 seconds; 9th, Wanderers, Hyland, nine minutes.

BANNER YEAR FOR LACROSSE

Edmonton Will Have a Fast Team—Several Stars Have Drifted into Town Lately

With all this current talk about baseball we must not lose sight of the fact that there will be a very classy lacrosse team in Edmonton this summer.

A number of players with good reputations in Eastern lacrosse circles now make their homes in this city and prospects look bright for a successful season. A meeting will be held very shortly and arrangements made for calling practices. It is expected that some of the boys will be out on the green sward by Good Friday and getting the kinks out of both bodies and sticks.

Calgary is talking big about the lacrosse team they are going to put in the field this season, and "Mimo" Cap's name muchly in the conversation. Why not content themselves with a place in an Alberta league consisting of Lethbridge, Strathcona, Edmonton and Calgary? Gate receipts should more than cover travelling expenses.

In consequence of its failure to attract the little diamond-shaped jigger to its printing the Cleveland hall club will find it necessary this year to get along without the patronage of the union printer, and the printer is some baseball patriot.

They have hung another nature fake on Ad Wolgast. They call him the "Wolverine Wildcat." Now a wolverine is a canine and a wildcat is a feline, and they are not even friends.

SCORED A GOAL BACKWARDS

"Cyclone" Taylor Fulfilled the Promise he Made in Ottawa—Some Incidents of Game

Ottawa papers have some very entertaining accounts of the Renfrew-Ottawa catastrophe which the Millionaires won by 17 to 2. Lake was greatly missed but the former champions would have been severely trounced even had Freddie been playing.

During the last half play was very dirty and Roberts and Hay Miller were sent off for the game ten minutes after the interval. Miller used the butt end of his stick in Roberts' wind and the latter came back with a stiff punch in the soft part of Miller's chin. The next instant both were locked in each other's arms, each vainly searching for the other's eye.

A few moments later Lalonde rushed Lesueur in the goal and pinned him against the bar. Lesueur pushed him out of the goal and Lalonde retaliated with a poke. Percy would not stand for it and handed him a wallop in the jaw. It took both teams five minutes to get the scrappers separated. Taylor, the cyclone, carried out his threat some weeks ago, that he would skate through the Ottawa team backwards and score a goal. For five yards he backed to the goal and while facing his own territory threw in the 17th goal. The Renfrew bleachers just fell on his neck and went crazy.

A glance at the goal summary is interesting. Newey Lalonde scored six counters and should lead the National Hockey League in that important department. Lester got three, Frank three, Hay Miller 2, and Taylor three. Rowe did not figure.

In spite of this terrible score the papers all say Lesueur was a star. What the rest of the Ottawas did could not be much.

QUEEN'S HOLD ALLAN CUP

Collegians Doubled the Score on Ottawa Cliffside, 6-3—Winners Had Better of Play Throughout.

(Special to The Capital.)
Kingston, March 12.—Queen's University hockey aggregation doubled score on the Cliffside of Ottawa in their race for the Allan Cup, emblematic of the amateur hockey championship. The score at half time stood 2 to 1 in favor of Queen's, but when the whistle blew for full time 6 to 3 was chalked up favoring the collegians. Queen's had the better of the play throughout the game and at no stage did they take the visitors seriously.

Last Respects to Jake.

Denver, Colo., March 10.—On hundred and fifty friends of the late Jacob Schaefer attended the funeral services held for the late billiard champion this afternoon in a local undertaking establishment. The body will be shipped tomorrow morning to Chicago, where funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon.

Nothing Doing Here.

It is suggested by several that the mad games between Macleod and LeCombe against the Tigers be played off on Edmonton ice. This suggestion could be all right, but if Macleod could not stir up enough courage to come to Calgary, where they are going to get the nerve stuck into them to double the stretch? The question again would be, how is the condition of the cash box?

Dear Sir—My Airedale, while playing with a metal spring tapeline, swallowed it. Though showing no ill effects as yet, do you think he's dying by inches?—A. X. L.

NEW SCHEME IN HOCKEY

Hyland Shoots Puck at Lesueur's Bangs in an Attempt to get Percy's Nerve—He Didn't Succeed

There has been a good deal of talk since last Saturday night about Hyland's high shots on goal after the game had been in progress for some time. It will be remembered that Lesueur was invulnerable. He was stopping everything. During the next ten minutes Hyland sent in four or five shots, so high that two of them went into the crowd. In the second half he repeated these tactics, and once the puck all out cut a curl off Percy's bangs. Was he shooting him on purpose? And was he aiming at Lesueur's head? There are many who think so. They do not hold the view that he was necessarily trying to injure the Ottawa goal-keeper; but they think these vicious high drives may have been intended to shake the nerve of the man who stood between the goal and the score they wanted, and to make him lose his eye. The way hockey is played, nowadays, every possible trick is tried, and Hyland's head-high shots may have been something new in that line. If so, the next thing in order will be a baseball catcher's mask for the man in goal.

A few people also believe Hyland and Gardner shot high in order to lose the puck in the crowd and cause a face beside Ottawa's net—Ottawa Free Press.

Saskatoon Still at It.

Saskatoon's cup pursuing hockey-ists are down in Moosemin in an endeavor to wrest from the southern champs, the right to style themselves the flower of Saskatchewan. Next Friday Moosemin is to be here with all their talent for the return meeting. It should be a lively affair. The seven to represent Saskatoon at Moosemin were named to the Saturday Press as follows: Goal, Laird; point, Koyl; cover-point, Baker; rover, Bert Fleming; centre, Charlton; right wing, Barber.—The Press.

CALGARY TEAM IS READY

The Wearers of the Blue and White Will Report on April 20—Season Opens About May 15th

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Calgary professional baseball club was held last night and some important business in preparation for the coming season was disposed of.

Manager Bill Carney has been ordered to report here in Calgary with his entire team by April 20, and some money was wired him for use in signing up his team. The uniforms, which will be blue and white, the same as last year, have been purchased and other preliminary steps have been taken along these lines.

The first games of the season will be played on or about May 15. Although this point is not definitely settled yet, there will be a meeting of the schedule committee next week to decide the matter and the entire programme of games made out.

The question of grounds is still an open one. A committee of the club waited on the commissioners recently but found that there was nothing doing unless that body received word from Ottawa where they have asked for a title to the Metcalf park property. At present the Dominion government hold the title and the park was given to the city on condition that it would not be board-fenced. So until the city gets the papers or permission to have the park fenced the matter of location of the games will be an unsolved problem.

Over in Toledo they're playing checkers for $1,000 a game. Can any one figure how long it would take the average Scotchman to take his fingers off the "man" with that amount of money hanging on the move?—Toronto Telegram.

BURRIDGE IS OUT OF GAME

Star Backstop of the Western Canada League Has Charley-horse—May Not Play This Season

President Eckstrom of the Western Canada Baseball League has returned to Lethbridge after a holiday in California and the baseball pot should soon boil.

A meeting of the league will be held very soon and we shall see whether Winnipeg and Brandon will be with us or not. If they decide to throw in their lot with the Western cities, all well and good; but if they wish to withdraw, again all right. The Western Canada will be able to run along successfully without them.

Manager Deacon White has received a piece of bad news. Burridge, the star catcher of the League, and looked upon as Edmonton's mainstay behind the bat for now, has got Charley-horse, and is unable to throw a ball across the room, much less whip it to second in his old-time form. If Harry does not show signs of improvement he will not join the team this season. In this event, Deacon will secure a backstop from Manager Brown of Vancouver who has placed his surplus players at Edmonton's disposal.

Contracts are pouring in every day at baseball headquarters and the fans will be surprised when they read the names of some of the men signed. The full roster will be published in the course of a week, but just at present Deacon is working with gun shoes and not running any chances of having a man he is after grabbed by some other club. A Toronto paper says:

"A bunch of Toronto amateurs and semi-pros, will 'go out' this season to the Northwestern Canada League being the mecca of most of them."

These Toronto amateurs and semi-pros may be coming West, but the "one best bet" is that their tickets do not read "Edmonton." We had an experience last summer with that bunch that still rattle in the hearts of local fans.

A PECULIAR PROPOSITION

Wanderers are Wondering Where the Stanley Cup Challenges Will Come from in 1911.

Montreal, March 12.—The Wanderers are likely to be up against a peculiar proposition next season. With the Stanley Cup in their possession, the question arises where are the challengers coming from?

Pro hockey has gone out in Winnipeg. It has barely lived through a season in Ontario and ended up with a bunch of second-raters of the Berlin team as champions. Pro hockey further west than Winnipeg seems to be out of the question. Where are the challengers coming from?

It is of no use to say that the amateur teams can challenge for the trophy. They can't. That is if they want to preserve the present dovetail of peace in the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. You remember that when the athletic compact between East and West was signed, sealed and delivered, it was agreed that for the period of one year amateurs might play with or against professionals in hockey without any detriment to their amateur standing.

The time limit is up with the season just closing. It is of no use to expect the amateurs to step in after the Stanley Cup—not yet awhile, anyway. Perhaps not till that Cliffside team is grown up. There is a professional league down by the sea—forced on the public by the startling revelations recently made in connection with amateur hockey down there. The Crests of Halifax won the championship last night. They are entitled to the right to challenge for the Stanley Cup. But we have none of us forgotten what happened to the last team from the Maritime Provinces that came up here after the pewter.

The Man From Brodneys

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

In an instant they seemed to understand something that had not even been considered before. She looked away, but he kept his eyes upon her half turned face, fading delight in the war that that surged so shamelessly to her brow. He wondered if she could hear the pounding of his heart above the thud of the horses' feet.

"We are to be married in June," she said, somewhat defiantly. Some of the light died in his eyes. "Prince Karl was very ill. They thought he might die. His—his studies—his music, I mean, proved more than he could carry. It is not serious. A nervous breakdown," she explained haltingly. "It was necessary to postpone the marriage. He will be quite well again, they say, by June."

"I hope he may be fully recovered, for your sake," he managed to say. "Thank you. After a long pause she turned to him again and said, 'We are to live in Paris for a year or two at least.'"

"He is in Paris now?" "No," she answered, and that was all. He waited, but she did not expand her confidence, and she was laughing comfortably, a mischievous gleam in her dark eyes. She laugh was as awkward as hers was charming.

"You do like to be flattered," he exclaimed at random. "And I shall take upon myself to add to today's measure." He again drew forth his pocket-book. She looked on curiously. "Permit me to restore to you one handkerchief, which you dropped some time ago. I've been keeping it for myself, but—"

"My handkerchief?" she gasped, her thoughts going at once to that ridiculous incident of the balcony. "It must belong to Lady Deppingham."

"Oh, it isn't the one you used on the balcony," he protested coolly. "It antedates that adventure."

"Bacony? I don't understand you," she continued.

"Then you are exceedingly obtuse." "I never dreamed that you could see," she confessed.

"It was extremely nice in you and very presumptuous in me. But your highness, this is the handkerchief you dropped in the castle garden six months ago. Do you recognize the perfume?"

"You are very sentimental," she said at last. "Would you care to keep it? It is of no value to me."

"Thank! I will keep it." "I've changed my mind," she said inconsequently, stuffing the fabric in her garter. "You have something else in that pocketbook that I should very much like to possess."

"It can't be that Bank of England—" "No, not that wrapped it in a bit of paper last week and placed it there for safe keeping."

"You mean the bullet?" "Yes, I should like it to show to my friends, you know, when I tell them how near you were to being shot." "Without a word he gave her the bullet that had dropped at his feet on that first day at the chateau.

"Thank you. Oh, isn't it a horrible thing! Just to think, it might have struck you!" She shuddered.

He was about to answer in the delirium when a sharp turn in the road brought them in view of the chateau. Not a hundred yards ahead of them two persons were riding slowly, unattended, very much occupied in themselves. Their backs were turned toward Chase and the princess, but it was an easy matter to recognize them. The glance which shot from the princess to Chase found a peculiar smile disappearing from his lips.

"I know what you are thinking," she cried impulsively. "You are wrong, very wrong. Mr. Chase, Lady Deppingham is a born coquette—a born trifler. It is ridiculous to think that she can be seriously engaged in a—"

"It isn't that, princess," he interrupted, a dark look in his eyes. "It was merely wondering whether your little Mrs. Browne is as happy as she might be."

Genera was silent for a moment. "I had not thought of that," she said soberly.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE BURNING OF THE DUNGEON.

It went in and had tidings with him in the hanging garden. Deppingham was angry and preoccupied. Drasilva Brodneys was unusually vivacious. At best she was not volatile; her greatest accomplishment lay in the ability to appreciate what others had to say.

Her husband, issue from a major anxiety, was the same blithe optimist as ever. He showed no sign of restraint, no evidence of compunction. Chase found himself secretly speculating on the state of affairs. Was the two hours working out a preconceived plan, or were they, after all, playing with the lives of spring?

Immediately after the Genera carried Lady Deppingham off to her room. When they came forth for a proposed stroll in the grounds Lady Agnes was looking very much perturbed. The princess had about her the air of one who has conquered by gentleness.

"It has been so appallingly dull, Genera, don't you understand? That's why. Besides, it isn't necessary for her to be so horrible about it. She—"

"She isn't! I said about it, dear. She's most self-satisfied."

"Fubbi! She talks about the Puritans and all that sort of thing. I know what she means. But there's no use talking about it. I'll do as you say—command, I mean. I'll try to be a prince. Heaven alone knows what a real prince is. I don't. All this talk about Bobby and me wouldn't exist if that wretched Chase man had been a little more affable. He never noticed us until you came. No wife to snore after him and—why, my dear, he would have been ideal."

"It's all very nice, Agnes, but you forget your husband," said Genera, with a tolerant smile.

"Genera," said Lady Agnes solemnly, "if you'd been on a barren island for five months as I have with nothing to look at but your husband and the sunset you would not be so hard on me. I wouldn't take Drasilva's husband away from her for the world. I wouldn't even look at him if he were not on the barren island too. I've read novels in which a man and woman have been wrecked on a desert island and lived there for months, even years, in an atmosphere of the most delicious love. Those novels are nineties. Nobody could be so good as all that without getting bored. I'm tired of my own angels. That's why I want you for awhile. You've got no wings, Genera, but it's of no consequence, as you have no one to fly away from."

"Oh, to you, might add," laughed Genera in the dusk.

"That's very American. You're been talking to Miss Pelham. She's always adding things. By the way, Mr. Chase sent quite a lot of her. She types for him. I fancy she's trying to close between him and Mr. Saunders. If you were she, dear, which would you choose?"

"Mr. Saunders," said Genera promptly. "But if I were myself I'd choose Mr. Chase."

"Speaking of angels, he must have wings a yard long. He has been chosen by an entire harem, and he flies from them as if pursued by the devil. I imagine, however, that he'd be rather dangerous if his wings were to get out of order unexpectedly. But he's nice, isn't he?"

"The princess nodded her head tolerantly.

Her ladyship went on: "I don't want to walk, after all. Let us sit here in the corridor and count the primes in the chandeliers. It's such fun. I've done it often. Mr. Britt has advanced a new theory. We are to indulge in double barreled divorce proceedings. As soon as they are over Mr. Browne and I are to marry. They are to hurry up and get another divorce. Then we marry our own husband and wife all over again. Isn't it exciting? Only, of course, it isn't going to happen. It would be so frightfully improper—shocking, don't you know. You see, I should go on living with my divorced husband, even after I'd been married to Bobby. I'd be obliged to do that in order to give Bobby grounds for a divorce as soon as the divorce is over. But Bobby has put his foot down hard. He says he had trouble enough getting me to marry him the first time. He won't go and let her down to marry that horrid little Brabett. She said to herself, with a sudden vivid glance at the proud, vibrant, lovely creature ahead, 'She deserves a better fate than that.'"

Genera waited for her at the head of the stairway.

"Is Mr. Chase to stay for lunch?" asked Lady Agnes irrelevantly.

"I don't know? I am not his hostess."

"Holy toby! I've never known you to look like that before. A little dash of red sets your cheeks off." But Genera threw up her hands in despair and started toward the stairway, her chin tilted high. Lady Agnes, laughing softly, followed. "It's too late now. I'm married to that horrid little Brabett," she said to herself, with a sudden vivid glance at the proud, vibrant, lovely creature ahead.

COMMONS ARE DESERTED

By Party Leaders—Asquith and Balfour Both Absent Themselves with Political Fray at Its Height.

London, March 13.—Each week and almost each day, brings political storm, and no serious political attempt to forecast the course of events even for a week. Effective leadership on either side there is none.

The ministerials are uneasy that Asquith should for some unexplained reason have absented himself from the House of Commons, when this week's excitement was at the highest. The Unionists are also concerned that they should have to face Lloyd George's latest coup without the leadership of Balfour, who as yet gives no sign of returning from Cannes.

Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader, exults, because by voting only "yes" or "no" payment for postmen, sailors, school teachers and old-age pensioners, the government at last announces war to the death on the Lords.

But serious minded ministerials are alarmed at the possibilities of financial chaos. Many of them share the view that Lloyd George's new method of coercion of the King will prove highly distasteful to the nation.

"The King," said Stead, "is trusted by everybody. The Nationalists may rage and the labor party may fume, but no one without taking leave of his senses would make a present of the crown to his opponents. We are all in the hollow of his hand, and what he says goes."

Labor Party's Proposals. London, March 13.—On March 28th and 29th the labor party, which is increasing in political influence, will hold its annual conference in this city at which a number of very radical proposals will be made and undoubtedly carried, foremost among these being a demand for state aid of mothers, which will create consternation among the Conservative English politicians.

The Socialistic idea that poor mothers should be supported by the state will undoubtedly make the Tories feel that it is a blow with England. The resolution which the conference will adopt will say that the labor party of England is of the opinion that the children should be made a permanent and integral part of a very progressive party's programme; it will demand that a system of maternity pensions be inaugurated, accompanied by the provisions of free medical and nursing attendance, it will ask the government to form and organize a national body of trained nurses, to be trained, paid and supervised by the administration of the midwifery, medical and surgical nursing needs of the people.

The days passed, Hollingsworth Chase now realized that he no longer had authority over the natives. He made the reports for the islanders and took charge of the statements from the bank.

Every morning Chase rode boldly into the town, transacted what business he could, talked with the thoroughly disturbed bankers and then he made his way to the chateau. He was in love with the princess—desperately in love. He understood perfectly for he was a man of the world and cosmopolitan—that nothing could come of it. She was a princess, and she was not in a story book; she could not marry him.

So far as Genera was concerned, on her part it could mean no more than a diversion, a concession to coquetry, a simple trifling; it meant the passing of a few days, the killing of time, the pleasure of gentle conquest, and then—forgetfulness. All this he knew.

At first she revolted against the court he so plainly paid her. It was bold, conscienceless, impertinent. She avoided him; she treated him to a short season of cold, talked with the natives to make his efforts—and then in the end she decided to give him as good as he sent in this brief battle of folly.

What did anything matter so long as Prince Karl of Brabett was the fewest scars, for in a fortnight or two they would get their separate ways, no better, no worse, for the conflict and the war was over. He was very brave and very gallant and, above all, very sensible.

They rode together in the park every morning, keeping well out of range of the marksman in the hills. Their conduct was with the eyes, the tone of the voice, the intervals of silence; no touch of the hand—no eloquence the strokes of the pen.

What did it matter if a few dead birds, a few crippled larks, a few blasted hares, were left strewn upon the battlefield at the end of the fortnight? What did anything matter so long as Prince Karl of Brabett was not there?

One night toward the end of this week of chasing and dodging the vulnerable spot in the other's armor—Genera sat leaning upon the rail (To Be Continued.)

Noted Irish Nationalist Dead.

London, March 14.—Timothy Harrington, member of the House of Commons for Harbour Division of Dublin, died yesterday. He was born in 1821. In 1902 he was elected lord mayor of Dublin, was re-elected in 1903 and 1904. He was formerly proprietor of United Ireland. He was at one time secretary of the National Irish League, and in 1897 he declared himself to be an Independent Nationalist.

Jury Failed to Agree. Revelstoke, B.C., March 14.—The coroner's jury in the Rogers' Pass disaster was dismissed Saturday morning, the members being evenly divided as to the result of the evidence. Three members wish to find unavoidable accident with a recommendation to precautions in future. Three others wished an award of negligence to be returned. A further investigation will probably be held.

SATURDAY GREAT DAY WITH CONTESTANTS

(And Today Will be Another)

A Very Large Number of Subscribers Were Obtained—As a Result the Candidates Wore "The Smile That Won't Come Off"

A very pleasing vote today, over 10,000 of the "precious blue certificates" being deposited in the ballot box by the various candidates of the entire contest series in District No. 2, with District No. 1 a very close second. The voting contest came across with 25,000 votes, placing himself right among the leaders. The "century class" now has a membership of seven. There is no limit to the membership of this lodge; all it requires is the votes. It is not necessary to have any other signs than subscribers to the Capital in sufficient numbers to reach the number of votes.

It is not necessary to visit the contest department this evening until you have rounded up all the promises you can. Simply have your return slips filled in and you will be waited on in a few minutes. The only thing necessary is that you reach the contest department before 10 o'clock to get your slips.

The contest manager has been having a few more or less original ideas, and has been arriving at a few conclusions. In the first place, he has decided to revise his figures on this particular contest. To begin with, he had his own private opinion concerning the number of votes it was going to take to win in this race. He kept it secretly to himself, and now he is mightily glad that he did so. If he had not, a large number of the Capital's wide-awake and hustling candidates, as well as their friends, would certainly have had him down for a "foller."

Anyone of a dozen in the list look like sure winners to their friends, and this ensures a hard-fought battle to the finish. The list contains very few weak candidates. Any name at the bottom today may be seen at the top tomorrow.

This truth applies as well to the finish. The list contains very few weak candidates. Any name at the bottom today may be seen at the top tomorrow.

The Most Startling Musical Announcement Ever Made

THE STEINWAY PIANOLA PIANO

Steinway & Sons recently gave their consent to an arrangement with the Aeolian Company for the building of a Steinway player piano.

The new instrument has been placed on the market and is called the STEINWAY PIANOLA PIANO.

For many years the distinguished firm of Steinway & Sons has made a close study of the player situation—the prominence given to this phase of the piano trade making such investigation compulsory on the part of a house that has always been first in keeping its product in advance of the times.

However, Steinways would not consent to any agreement concerning a player until it was proven beyond doubt that such uniting of the time-honored name of Steinway with that of a player device would add lustre to the Steinway reputation for supremacy.

The announcement of the Steinway Player has already created the most profound interest in musical circles throughout the world, and its unbounded success has been assured from the beginning.

While themselves manufacturers of an extensive line of Pianos, the Aeolian Company have by this uniting of their devices with Steinway Piano placed the approving seal of high piano-trade authority upon the recognized supremacy of the Steinway, since the Steinway Pianola Piano will be the highest type of player offered for sale by this or any other house.

The vast resources of the Steinway house, with its tremendous American and European prestige, stand as a gilt edged security for the perfection of the new instrument.

The Price of the Steinway-Pianola Piano is $1500

EMPIRE'S HIGH CLASS BILL

Starting with today's matinee at 3 o'clock the Empire promises another list of high class attractions. Manager Kyle is not saying that this week's offering is "the best bill ever gotten together" but it is equal to any seen here this season to date, and they in itself is guarantee that it will meet with a hearty reception.

The headliners are three brothers, billed as morality gymnasts. Manager Kyle witnessed this act in Seattle while at the coast this past summer, and guarantees it as a wonderful act with a revelation in the line of contortion work.

Another classy number is that of the Roma Symphonie Saxophone Quartet, who can handle this beautiful instrument to the King's taste. They perform entirely without the aid of the orchestra, relying on their finished work, and perfect harmony to carry them through and they certainly succeeded last week in Calgary.

Lahl, Cecil and Avery have a funny comedy sketch, "Busted Aspirations" and have some very nice press notices to their credit from the eastern circuits they have played.

Charles Hughes and his Singing Girl have a pleasing musical novelty, entirely their own, which has been designated as a "miniature musical comedy."

The Auer have an European novelty act which they call "Jumps, Ramps and Rags." They produce many beautiful pictures from a bundle of rags, and the male members of the team is in the same category as the grasshopper when it comes to jumping.

Edith Wall has another catchy illustrated song number, and George Norton promises some interesting motion pictures from his little den up near the roof.

Director Thos. Irving has another catchy overture for which the Empire Orchestra has a well established reputation, and will complete a strong bill which should certainly draw bumper houses.

Alas! Too Slow (Calgary Herald)

A London paper says it will be a good thing for Britain if she has to wait on Canada before she can go to war. Fine indeed. The Canadian members will talk about it so long that the enemy will have died of old age.

INCREASE IS 17 PER CENT.

So Great Has Been the Need for Additional Accommodation for City School Children

Supt. McCall, of the public schools, had some interesting figures to give on this morning showing the increase in attendance in the city schools during 1909 as compared with 1908. He estimates the increase at 17 per cent.

In 1909 the total attendance was 28,028. In 1908 it was 25,031. This shows an increase of over three thousand pupils, and the teaching staff of the city was only increased by nine grade teachers.

"If the increase this year is in the same proportion as it was during 1909," said Mr. McCall to the Capital, "we will need to enlarge our staff greatly. It will require ten more teachers to keep up with the demand."

SEVEN MINERS KILLED

Six Widows and 24 Children Suffer From Explosion in Wilkes-Barre Colliery

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 13.—A terrible explosion of gas in the colliery of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company at South Wilkes-Barre tonight killed seven men and set fire to the mine. The deadly after-damp gathered in the mine in large quantities and kept the rescuers back of the fire. Others in the mine at the time of the explosion were found alive and safe when the rescue party reached them.

Six widows and 24 children are mourning the dead today, all but one of the seven victims having been married.

General Manager Huber says that he cannot account for the accident, the fire boss having examined the place two hours before the accident and pronounced it safe. An inquest will be held.

SERIOUS JAMESTOWN FIRE

Loss of $800,000 in Property, Death of John Hanson and Injury to Three Others.

Jamestown, N.Y., Mar. 14.—Beginning Saturday night and ending this morning, Jamestown was visited by the most serious fire it has ever had, resulting in a total loss of $800,000 and the death of one man and the serious injury to three others. The dead are John Hanson, captain of fire police, crushed by the falling walls. The injured are Alfred Shoenholt, skull fractured. He will die. Geo. King, both legs broken; Joel Ober, neck hurt and internally injured. The buildings destroyed are: the Gockley factory, the Gockley business block, the new Sherman House, the Erie hall block, and the J. F. Briggs block.

Antarctic Explorer Suicides

Melbourne, Mar. 14.—Mr. Armitage, a member of Lieut. Shackleton's Antarctic expedition, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver.

St. Patrick's concert in Eglantine Church, Norwood, corner of Willow avenue and Cary street, on Thursday evening at 8 p.m., promises to be a most enjoyable time. The programme will consist of Irish readings, songs and quartettes. Refreshments will be served.

COST OF G.T.P. IS $67,890,697

Minister of Railways Give Statistics as to Progress of Construction for 1909

ESTIMATES BEING CONSIDERED

$27,000,000 Needed to Cover the Cost of Construction for Next Fiscal Year on the Transcontinental

Ottawa, March 11.—The commission spent the greater part of today sitting in supply on the $27,000,000 National transcontinental railway estimate to cover the cost of construction during the next fiscal year. Hon. Mr. Graham gave some figures as to the progress of construction and expenditure, but more attention was paid to figures bearing on classification.

R. L. Borden declared that estimates of engineers and actual results were so far apart as to indicate that either the engineering staff was incompetent or else the country was being robbed of millions. The opposition asked for a good deal of information with regard to objects of laying the foundation for a debate on the item before it is finally passed. The minister of railways said that it was difficult to make accurate estimates, and that other railways had exactly the same experience but the public did not hear of them.

Object to Barge Canal

In the railway commission of the commons today, the fight over James Comstock's bill to incorporate the international railways canal and construction company was renewed. The company propose to build a barge canal from Lake Superior to Lake Winnipeg a distance of 430 miles.

F. H. Chrysler, on behalf of the city of Winnipeg, objected to the bill on the ground that it would give the company rights on Winnipeg river, when the people of Winnipeg are building a power plant which will supply the future requirements of the city.

Mr. Nesbitt, North Oxford, moved that the bill be reported to a sub-committee for a report on the advisability and legal aspect of the proposal to construct the proposed canal.

This agreed to Chairman Gathier naming a commission of five members as follows: Nesbitt, Comstock, Compton, Haggart, (Winnipeg), and Boyce.

Cost of Transcontinental

On the vote for expenditure for the next fiscal year on the National Transcontinental railway being taken up, the minister of railways at the request of Mr. Borden, gave statistics as to the progress of construction, etc., up to the end of 1909.

The total expenditure up to that date, he said, had been $67,890,697. The estimated cost per mile still remains at figures given in the house in 1908, viz. $85,000, the number of miles graded was 1,002 and the number of miles on which track was laid was 727. Of track mileage 621 were on the main line and 100 on sidings. It is estimated that the cost of construction of the prairie section still stands at $33,000 per mile, the estimated cost of the mountain section per mile had not been arrived at yet.

Sydney Coal Strike Ended

Sydney, N.S., March 11.—Strike of Northern Coal miners which has been in progress since early in November was declared off today, thus ending the difficulties in the South Wales Coal fields. The southern miners resumed work last month. During the strike which affected 12,000 miners, the price of coal jumped from $2.00 to $16.00 ton. The question of higher wages and better working conditions precipitated the conflict. Four of the strike leaders were sentenced to terms of imprisonment during the trouble, having been convicted of obstructing work at the mines.

One Mile in 28 Seconds.

Dayton, Ohio, March 11.—Barney Oldfield, driving his 200-horse-power benzine in practise yesterday covered a mile in 28 seconds, which is 1-2 of a second faster than the world's record made by a steam car here four years ago.

Missionary Took Smallpox.

Victoria, March 11.—The steamer Montegle was quarantined yesterday on arrival from the Orient with sloop passenger, Rev. John Solomon, of Toronto, suffering from smallpox. He is an aged missionary over 70 years of age, and was returning from the headwaters of the Yangtze in China.

THE DAY IN STRATHCONA

Budget of News from the City on the South Bank of the River

Ms. Constantine gave an address to the lady students of Alberta University on Saturday afternoon. The subject was "Life in the Klondike."

Mrs. H. E. Gordon, with her two little daughters, is expected home on Thursday from a three months' visit to her parents in Winnipeg.

Mrs. Wm. Main will return to the coast this week. She will be accompanied by Miss Gerie and Mr. Rus Lyon, who intend to take up their residence at the coast in future.

In the Metropolitan Methodist Church Mr. A. E. Ottewill gave an excellent address in the morning. In the evening the pastor conducted the service. The subject for the evening sermon was "Christ or Barabbas."

Rev. J. M. Millar conducted the usual services in the Knox Presbyterian Church. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered at the close of the morning service.

In the Baptist Church the pastor, Rev. J. C. Bowen, commenced a series of seven sermons to be delivered on Sunday evenings on the seven sentences uttered by Jesus on the Cross. The subject for Sunday was "The Forgiveness of the Cross."

The special services in the Methodist Church will be continued this week. On Monday night the pastor will address the meeting. Tuesday night Rev. Conder of Wesley Church, Edmonton, Wednesday night the Evangelistic band of Alberta College, Thursday night Rev. R. Pearson of Grace Church; and Friday Dr. Riddell of Alberta College.

Prof. W. M. Edwards is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a little daughter to his home.

The new store of Richards & Co. was formally opened for business on Saturday. An orchestra was in attendance and many people made it a point to visit the store during the course of the day. The company is to be complimented on their progressive policy. The store is modern in every sense and is made most attractive by well finished woodwork and suitable decorations.

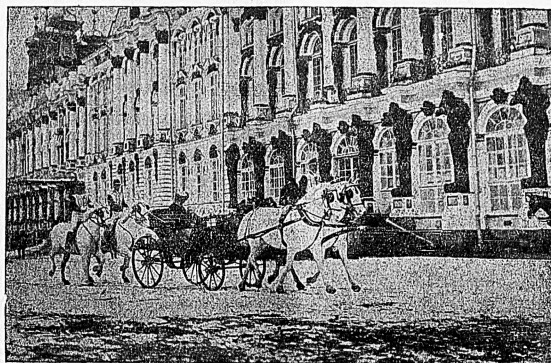

The Women's Missionary Society meets on Thursday of this week.

$15,000 Painting Destroyed

San Francisco March 13.—A Millet picture valued at $15,000 was stolen from the Golden Gate Museum this morning. The thieves entered the museum while no one but the attendants were in the building, and cut the picture from the frame. The picture was the property of Mrs. Sarah Spooner, a local art connoisseur and was brought to her from Europe several years ago. The picture represents a herd of sheep grazing. Mrs. Spooner had it insured for $5,500.

Irish Nationalist Dead.

London, March 12.—James O'Connor, a Nationalist member of the House of Commons who has represented the West Division of Wicklow since 1892, died today. He was born in 1836. Jas. O'Connor was formerly on the staff of the "Irish People," a Fenian organ. In 1865 he with Lady O'Leary and Chas. Kickham of the "Irish People" was convicted of treason and felony and was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude. He was liberated before his term had expired and was subsequently connected with various journals.

About Town

Owing to illness, Mrs. M. Barbour, Windsor Hotel, will not receive until the third Tuesday in April.

The monthly meeting of the Edmonton Board of Trade will be held on Wednesday at 4 o'clock in the King Edward Hotel block.

Eleven cases of "tagless dogs" were up in the police court this morning. Most of the offenders settled by getting out licenses and paying costs.

Mansel & Dunlop have secured the contract for the new three-story Midland Bank Building to be erected on the Jasper avenue lot at present occupied by the Dodge bakery. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000.

Secretary Fisher of the Edmonton board of trade has received word from S. H. Smith from Winnipeg that the railway officials there are unable to confer in arrangements for a banquet on the 17th of this month and the affair has been indefinitely postponed.

For getting into a fight in the Brunswick Hotel on Saturday evening Rudolph Wold was fined $5 and costs or ten days in jail in the police court this morning. Magistrate Coan ordered the Globe Provision Co. to pay S. J. J. Creelman, formerly in their employ, $46.34 in wages due to him.

The Men's Brotherhood of the Westminster Presbyterian Church will meet tonight in the basement of the church at 8 p.m. The topic for the evening is "The Race Question." An interesting debate dealing with the Oriental in Canada will be held. Free to all. Com. can give us your opinion. If you have no opinion come all the same and we will give you ours.

After a trial which has taken up the whole of the time of the district court at Red Deer for the past couple of weeks, Jack Dulock, the notorious cattle rustler, was convicted on the charges preferred against him and sentenced on Friday to five years in the penitentiary on each charge, the terms to run concurrently. P. Nolan and Mr. Drury prosecuted for the Crown in the case at Red Deer; Mr. Gittivray of Stettler and Twiss of Calgary appeared for the defense. The evidence was gathered by Detective Sergeant Nicholson of Edmonton and Sergeant Emerson of Stettler.

Judgment in the case of Malin vs. Union Assurance Company was handed down in the Supreme Court this morning by Mr. Justice Harvey. The plaintiff, Thomas Malin, proprietor of the Strathcona House, was awarded $500 with interest from July 1908 on his claim for fire insurance on contents of the hotel destroyed by fire in that month. The assurance company contended that the policy did not cover both the brick and wooden portions of the building, but extended only to the brick structure. Judge Harvey found this not to be the case. J.K. Lavelle appeared for the plaintiff and R. H. Bennett for the defendant on the hearing of the case.

NOTED JOURNALIST DEAD

Geo. Murray, for Forty Years Editor of the Star, Died in His Eightieth Year.

Montreal, March 12.—Geo. Murray, prominently identified for half a century with the literary life of Montreal and for forty years editor of the Star, passed away yesterday in his eightieth year. He was a son of Jas. Murray, editor of the London Times, and came to Canada while still a young man, living first in Ontario and subsequently serving for many years as classical master in Montreal High School, and retiring twenty years ago on a pension.

Where the Good Clothes Come From

Ralph Gunn of Hamilton is in the city, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Frank G. Bowers, 423 Twelfth St.

McDougall Young Men's Club will hold a mock parliament in the lecture room of McDougall church on Tuesday night, March 15th, at eight o'clock. Several bills of great importance to the public at the present time will be introduced for discussion. A very interesting and profitable time is anticipated. Visitors are cordially invited.

Supt. McNaughton of the power department is to go to Milwaukee shortly to take up the question of putting the producer gas plant at the power house in good order. If it is at all feasible the gas engine will be repaired and used in case of emergency.

The fire department had a false alarm sent in this morning from out near the C.T.P. shops. It was a case of "nothing doing" when they got there.

W. M. Pindell, general counsel for the Rudolph S. Blome Co. of Chicago, manufacturers of Granatoid pavement, arrived in the city yesterday in order to negotiate with the city council for contracts for some of the paving that is to be done this summer. Julian Kendrick, the chief engineer of the company, arrived today and will assist Mr. Pindell in presenting the advantages of the Granatoid pavement.

Bishop Donteville, recently appointed head of the Oblate Order for the world, is in the Edmonton district at present on his way to Rome from Vancouver, where he was formerly located. The venerable bishop spent yesterday in St. Albert, where he was tendered a most enjoyable banquet by the Knights of Columbus. He will return to Edmonton this morning and will be a guest at the Roman Catholic Mission on Tenth street.

The legislature resumes work this afternoon at four o'clock after the week-end visit of several of the members to their homes. Another division of the House is expected this afternoon to test the strength of the two factions since Friday last. On Wednesday J. W. Woolf, member for Cardston, leaves for Nevada, where he has purchased a 4,000-acre cattle ranch. He will pair off with Arch. McLean, member for Taber, who has urgent business at home requiring his attention. Colin Genge is expected to take his seat in the legislature on Tuesday afternoon. Hon. W. T. Finlay, ex-Minister of Agriculture, who has been in a Toronto hospital, is said to have recovered sufficiently to enable him to return to Medicine Hat. His appearance before the close of the session is not improbable.

At the King Edward—Frederick Villiers, London; G. F. Marshe, C. H. Bent, Stony Plain; J. V. Pallford, Winnipeg; John Trotter, Calgary; W. Wilson and wife, Winnipeg; Wm. Tyler, Vancouver, B.C.; D. J. Dale, Toronto; V. G. Bentley, New York; E. Schmidt and wife, Saskatoon; W. G. Lowry, Leduc; M. M. Simon, Calgary; J. A. Pretty, T. B. Hood, Wolf Creek.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Edmonton exhibition directors will be held in the McDougall Court offices this evening.

St. George's Society meets this (Monday) evening at the Oddfellows' Hall, Norwood Block, at 8 p.m. A program of song and music will commence at 9:30 sharp.

AUTOS FROLIC ON SPEEDWAY

inspired by curiosity the Capital took a jaunt around the different garages this morning to find out how much good Edmonton coin of the realm was being invested in motors.

John I. Mills, proprietor of the Alberta Automobile Company, stated that this would be a banner year. He has already sold five four-cylinder, 30 hp. Reos, 5 four cylinder 20-hp. Fords, and 1 forty-horse power Reo. In addition to these which have been already delivered, Mr. Mills has 15 more machines of these same popular makes under order and expects to sell them all without any trouble.

A visit to the Bellamy Co. elicited the reply, "See Mr. Watt." Mr. Watt was found in the garage busily engaged in displaying the points of the McLaughlin-Blink to a prospective purchaser. When questioned about trade prospects Mr. Watt said that things never looked better. The sale of McLaughlin's up to date this season has been small but is accounted for by the garage facilities being small. At present a large fire proof garage is under way and will be completed in a month's time. When in their new quarters the Bellamy Co. will have a building unequalled between Winnipeg and the coast. It will be 75 feet by 50 feet with a large repair shop in the rear. The offices will be in the front and this will have ample space for garage purposes. Indeed nearly all the accommodation is spoken for now.

The Bellamy Co. handle the McLaughlin-Blink exclusively and have 25 new models under order now.

WILL MEET AT ALBANY

Earl Grey and President Taft to Attend
Brilliant University Club Dinner—
Other Prominent Speakers

Albany, N.Y., March 14.—President Taft will meet Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, when he comes here March 15th. The University Club, whose dinner the President will attend on that evening, announced that Earl Grey would be one of the speakers at the affair. Other speakers will be Governor Hughes, Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols, president of Dartmouth College, David R. Francis, former governor of Missouri and Secretary of the Interior under President Cleveland.

Applied Arts Society.

The secretary of the Applied Arts Society—an art club of Toronto of very high standing—writes to Edmonton to know if it is possible to form a branch of the society here. Could a club be organized and hold an occasional exhibit with help from the east to stir up interest, as at Vancouver? She further asks if there are any good workers in crafts who would contribute to the work representing Edmonton at the National Exhibition in August. Again, are there any foreigners who carry on their native crafts from whom we might secure a good representative exhibit? Any information about the above subject will be gladly received by M. W. Campbell, 426 Seventh St.

After Stanley Cup.

Moosomin, March 11.—The first game of the series for the championship of Saskatchewan was played here this evening. The home team defeated Saskatoon by 6 to 3. The return game will be played very soon. H. Moosomin wins it will challenge for the Stanley Cup.

dessert in Walsley's expedition to the relief of Khartoum in '85, and then come pictures of Kitchener's famous rush into the desert, and the battle of Omdurman to avenge the death of Gordon. Mr. Villiers was with Kitchener's command on this occasion.

South African Scenes.
Then come some of the hardships of Tommy Atkins in South Africa. Pictures of the Canadian contingent before Paardeburg are also shown. And next Mr. Villiers, by story and picture will relate his adventures before Port Arthur, during that deadly struggle between the Japs and Russians.

The lecture will finish up with pictures taken last year when Mr. Villiers was with the Spanish Army in Morocco in the Riff war. This was started over an iron mine, and Mr. Villiers has many interesting stories to tell about this last campaign.
"The lecture will not be long, I hope," said Mr. Villiers to the Capital this morning. "I shall endeavor rather to have it go with a rattle, something like a machine gun."

only been away a few minutes when she heard a scream and looking toward the house saw smoke issuing from the roof. She dashed toward the building followed by Mr. Willis and a friend named Eric Campbell, who was working in a creek close by making a drain. Opening the door, Mrs. Willis was driven back by the dense cloud of smoke; Campbell, who was close behind, rushed in, but was overcome. Willis, who had arrived on the scene, entered on his hands and knees and groping around, found Campbell and dragged him out.
